

From the office of Quentin Raffles at Watson Games

-----

Some further specification updates for you:

Q) Does currency come in the form of 1,5,20,50,100 and 500 pound denominations, or can currency be treated as a series of single pounds?

A) Unlike the board game, money can just be treated as a single value. There is no need to model the individual notes.

Q) Can you tell us more about how you want the banker to function in game? Can the Banker cheat? Or does the banker just press the set buttons to fulfil transactions? In essence does the game enforce the rules upon the banker so the banker can never make a mistake or cheat?

A) The banker is totally honest, independent and never makes mistakes.

Q) During bidding can a player sell some of their properties in order to make a higher bid?

A) A player cannot sell assets outside of their turn. Bids have to be made using cash assets in their possession at the time the bid is made.

Quentin Raffles